This compact-sized blood glucose log book looks like a regular-sized paperback book, but it's a blood sugar diary. It is 5.5 x 7.5 inches, perfect bound, and is 132 pages. Easy to carry in purse or pocket and covers four whole months! The design of this specific logbook was suggested (guided) by a long time Type 1 diabetic who uses an insulin pump. Please take a peek at the "Look Inside" feature to make sure that the layout of this blood sugar journal is suitable for your needs. For CAT LOVERS! Each page has a small picture of a cute cat. If you need to use a diabetic blood glucose diary, then you might as well use one with cats! Cats make everything better! Each page covers one day. For each day there's room for up to twelve unique blood glucose tests (before & after breakfast, lunch, dinner, bedtime, two snacks). You may not need to log that many tests, but if you do, this book can handle it! You can also add info about carbs, the amount of insulin needed (if any) and an additional space to write in any further comments (food eaten, complications, explanations, additional readings, whatever). There is also a space to write reminders for appointments, and there is an additional area at the bottom of each page to write additional info, or just record events of the day (like a mini-journal!). The logbook also has an area at the beginning of the book for the user's name and contact info, emergency contact and doctor's phone number. Also included are a few extra pages for additional notes, reminders, phone numbers. Works for both Type 1 and Type 2 diabetics.
