Stop-motion animation has long been perceived as a technical practice rather than a creative, demanding art. Though stop-motion requires considerable technical knowledge, it also involves aesthetics and artistry that go beyond the technician's realm. Just as important as puppet mechanics are lighting, filters, lenses, camera angle and placement, and dramatic pose and movement. This manual is a complete guide to the aesthetics of stop-motion animation. Information is organized in an intuitive, easy-to-use structure, following the order an animator uses in setting up and then executing a scene. The first half concentrates on the aesthetics of lighting and cameras, a primary concern in any shot, with details of camera placement, various lenses and myriad lighting techniques. The second half deals with the process of performance art, an oft-overlooked aspect of stop-motion animation. Included is a commentary on body language, facial expression, gesture, movement and emotion—key concepts that are exemplified through the acting process. The work also offers an introduction to narrative form and a glossary of related terms.

Newly revised and updated, Film Lighting is an indispensable sourcebook for the aspiring and practicing cinematographer, based on extensive interviews with leading cinematographers and gaffers in the film industry. Film lighting is a living, dynamic art influenced by new technologies and the changing styles of leading cinematographers. A combination of state-of-the-art technology and in-depth interviews with industry experts, Film Lighting provides an inside look at how cinematographers and film directors establish the visual concept of the film and use the lighting to create a certain atmosphere. Kris Malkiewicz uses firsthand material from the experts he interviewed while researching this book. Among these are leading cinematographers Dion Beebe, Russell Carpenter, Caleb Deschanel, Robert Elswit, Mauro Fiore, Adam Holender, Janusz Kaminski, Matthew Libatique, Rodrigo Prieto, Harris Savides, Dante Spinotti, and Vilmos Zsigmond. This updated version of Film Lighting fills a growing need in the industry and will be a perennial, invaluable resource.

How does a film come to look the way it does? And what influence does the look of a film have on our reaction to it? The role of cinematography, as both a science and an art, is often forgotten in the chatter about acting, directing, and budgets. The successful cinematographer must have a keen creative eye, as well as expert knowledge about the constantly expanding array of new camera, film, and lighting technologies. Without these skills at a director's disposal, most movies quickly fade from memory. Cinematography focuses on the highlights of this art and provides the first comprehensive overview of how the field has rapidly evolved, from the early silent film era to the digital imagery of today. The essays in this volume introduce us to the visual conventions of the Hollywood style, explaining how these first arose and how they have subsequently been challenged by alternative aesthetics. In order to frame this fascinating history, the contributors employ a series of questions about technology (how did new technology shape cinematography?), authorship (can a cinematographer develop styles and themes over the course of a career?), and classicism (how should cinematographers use new technology in light of past practice?). Taking us from the hand-cranked cameras of the silent era to the digital devices used today, the collection of original essays explores how the art of cinematography has been influenced not only by technological advances, but also by trends in the movie industry, from the rise of big-budget blockbusters to the spread of indie films. The book also reveals the people behind the camera, profiling numerous acclaimed cinematographers from James Wong Howe to Roger Deakins. Lavishly illustrated with over 50 indelible images from landmark films, Cinematography offers a provocative behind-the-scenes look at the profession and a stirring celebration of the art form. Anyone who reads this history will come away with a fresh eye for what appears on the screen because of what happens behind it.

This book includes: case studies of film lighting by some of the world's leading cinematographers ; every chapter is illustrated with reproductions of 35mm film frames ; lighting diagrams accompany 35mm workprints from workshops ; chapters about 'Breathless', 'Fearless', 'Seven' and 'The last Emperor' are presented with frames from selected sequences ; seven sections are cinematography basics, the key light, portraits, day interiors, night interiors, lab techniques and the design of sequences ; technical and aesthetic aspects of cinematography. Wide ranging discussion with cinematographers begin with specific commentaries of the illustrated work and go onto include thoughts on lighting design and philosophy ; and cinematographers also talk candidly about the everyday aspects of cinematography, such as working with the director, scene design, managing time, set policies and other realities of the film business.

Fotodocumentaire over leven en werk van de Zwitserse psychiater en psycholoog (1875-1961), samengesteld door één van zijn naaste medewerkers naar aanleiding van een in 1975 in Zwitserland gehouden herdenkingstentoonstelling.

Oesterverkoopster Nancy Astley droomt haar leven lang van de vaudeville. Ondersteboven van revuester Kitty Butler trekt ze naar het wilde en avontuurlijke Londen. Al gauw worden ze geliefden en voeren ze samen hun `mannen-act op in theaters en music-halls. Een droom lijkt werkelijkheid geworden, maar dan leert Nancy dat liefde alleen niet genoeg is. Verlaten door Kitty zwerft ze zonder een cent op zak door de straten van Londen. Haar act wordt haar overlevingsstrategie verkleed als man komt ze in aanraking met charlatans, schandknepen en hoeren, maar ook met de Londense aristocratie, die zo mogelijk nog gevaarlijker is. Fluwelen begeerte laat op een unieke en haast tastbare manier de onderkant van de Victoriaanse tijd zien, en legt pijnlijk de hypocrisie ervan bloot. Vol kleurrijke beschrijvingen van het Londen van 1890 en zijn variétéwereld, met dickensiaanse personages en kloppend van erotische spanning is Fluwelen begeerte een roman die je tot de laatste bladzijde meesleept.

In Production Culture, John Thornton Caldwell investigates the cultural practices and belief systems of Los Angeles-based film and video production workers: not only those in prestigious positions such as producer and director but also many others, including gaffers, editors, and camera operators. Borrowing insights from cultural anthropology, Caldwell analyzes the stories workers tell and the rituals they enact to make sense of their labour and to critique the film and TV industry and the culture writ large. Far from being guarded, Hollywood executives and craftspeople work within an industry that obsessively reflects on itself and constantly exposes itself to the public. Caldwell suggests ways that scholarship might benefit by acknowledging the extent to which the industry first theorizes and critiques itself as part of economic and industrial habit. Caldwell's fieldwork combines interviews with industry workers; observations of sets and workplaces; and analyses of TV shows, industry documents, economic data, and promotional materials to show how film and video workers function in a radically transformed and unstable post-network industry. He chronicles how industry workers have responded to volatile changes including the convergence of "old" and "new" media; labour outsourcing; increasingly unruly labour and business relations; new production technologies; and multinational corporate conglomeration. He also explores new struggles over "authorship" within collective creative endeavours; the way that branding and syndication have become central business strategies for networks; and the "viral" use of industrial self-reflexivity to motivate consumers through DVD bonus tracks, behind-the-scenes documentaries, and "making-ofs." A significant, on-the-ground analysis of an industry in flux, Production Culture offers scholars new, more precise and holistic ways of thinking about media production as a cultural activity.

Fantastisch verhaal over een jongetje dat in zijn droom in de beslagkom van drie bakkers terecht komt en daar vreemde avonturen beleeft.

De archieven die door de Nederlandse archiefinstellingen worden beheerd hebben waarde als bron voor de geschiedenis en als cultureel erfgoed. De erfgoedwaarde is de laatste tijd centraal komen te staan.

Archieven worden in dienst gesteld van de beleving van de eigen geschiedenis door het grote publiek ter bevordering van identiteits- en gemeenschapsvorming. Die politieke agenda kan botsen met de professionele archivistische eisen die aan het verzamelen, ontsluiten en presenteren van archieven worden gesteld en met de objectiviteit en onpartijdigheid die daarbij van archivarissen wordt verlangd.

The Critical Practice of Film introduces film studies and production through the integration of criticism, theory and practice. Its approach is that of critical practice, a process that explores the integration and intersection between the critical analysis of films and the practical aspects of filmmaking. In other words, this book is both an introduction to the ways in which we watch films, as well as an introduction to how films are created ? the more you know about how films are made, the more you can appreciate the artistry involved in a film. Author Elspeth Kydd combines explorations of basic technical and aesthetic principles with extended analyses drawn from both classic and contemporary Hollywood and other world cinemas, including Battleship Potemkin (1927), Un Chien Andalou (1929), Stagecoach (1939), Mildred Pierce (1945), Notorious (1946), Letter from an Unknown Woman (1948), Gentlemen Prefer Blondes (1953), Breathless (1959), Memories of Underdevelopment (1968), Star Wars (1977), Raiders of the Lost Ark (1981), Distant Voices, Still Lives (1988), The Matrix (1999), Amores Perros (2000), Gosford Park (2001) and The Lord of the Rings trilogy (2001–3). Also included is a range of exercises designed to stimulate critical and analytical thought and help to demystify the process of creative mediamaking. Assignments range in scale from simple storyboarding and narrative development exercises that may be explored with minimal technology, to more complex video projects that can be adapted to suit varying levels of technical skill. The Critical Practice of Film provides an accessible introduction to the theory and practice of film studies, integrating creative practice with critical and theoretical engagement to guide students towards an engaged form of creative expression and an active role as reviewer and critic.

Beautifully presented, this ground-breaking text offers all students an integrated understanding of film criticism and production. Elspeth Kydd is a Senior Lecturer in Film Studies and Video Production at the University of the West of England. She has taught, researched and published in film and television studies for nearly twenty years, as well as being an active documentary videomaker. This book developed from teaching integrated theory-practice film courses at universities in the US and UK.

The Essential Guide to the Cameraman's Craft Since its initial publication in 1973, Cinematography has become the guidebook for filmmakers. This completely revised third edition, with more than 200 new illustrations, will provide a detailed look at: How expert camera operation can produce consistent, high-quality results How to choose film stocks for the appearance and style of the finished film How to measure light in studio and location shooting for the desired appearance How to coordinate visual and audio elements to produce high-quality sound tracks Whether the final product is a major motion picture, an independent film, or simply a home video, Cinematography can help any filmmaker translate his or her vision into a quality film.

Nos encontramos inmersos en una era en la que imágenes de todo tipo nos rodean y emiten mensajes diversos que no siempre somos capaces de comprender. Ante esta situación se hace necesario retomar el control, desarrollar aptitudes para leer, analizar y crear imágenes. La comunicación visual engloba disciplinas relacionadas con la capacidad comunicativa de las imágenes, cuya relevancia es cada vez mayor frente a la comunicación escrita. Esta obra pretende dar un paso más y ofrecer una reflexión más profunda sobre una de las disciplinas que la conforman: la fotografía cinematográfica, indagando sobre su naturaleza técnico-expresiva.

This handbook brings together essays in the philosophy of film and motion pictures from authorities across the spectrum. It boasts contributions from philosophers and film theorists alike, with many essays employing pluralist approaches to this interdisciplinary subject. Core areas treated include film ontology, film structure, psychology, authorship, narrative, and viewer emotion. Emerging areas of interest, including virtual reality, video games, and nonfictional and autobiographical film also have dedicated chapters. Other areas of focus include the film medium's intersection with contemporary social issues, film's kinship to other art forms, and the influence of historically seminal schools of thought in the philosophy of film. Of emphasis in many of the essays is the relationship and overlap of analytic and continental perspectives in this subject.

Zo afgrijselijk!'

Stephen Fry is een van de meest opvallende persoonlijkheden uit de recente Britse tv-geschiedenis, een begenadigd komiek en schrijver. In De Fry Kronieken vertelt hij over zijn jaren als student in Cambridge. Daar ontmoette hij Hugh Laurie, met wie hij onder meer de legendarische serie A bit of Fry and Laurie zou maken, maar ook Emma Thompson, die zou uitgroeien tot een wereldberoemd actrice. Gaandeweg ontdekt Fry waar hij goed in is: acteren en het bedenken en schrijven van sketches. In het Londen van de jaren tachtig viert hij samen met Hugh Laurie zijn eerste successen, waarover hij smaakvol kan vertellen. Maar hij staat ook stil bij de schaduwzijde van het succes: de faalangst en depressies die hem blijven achtervolgen. De Fry Kronieken vormen een opmerkelijk openhartig en bij vlagen hilarisch relaas waarin Fry de lezer aan de hand van zijn eigen leven rondleidt door de Engelse toneel-, comedy- en filmwereld. 'Buitengewoon indringend en onwaarschijnlijk openhartig.' - The Guardian Stephen Fry (1957) is komiek, acteur, schrijver en presentator. Hij speelde in tv-series en films, waaronder de verfilming van Harry Mulisch' roman De ontdekking van de hemel, en publiceerde meerdere zeer succesvolle romans. Van De Fry Kronieken zijn in Engeland al meer dan zeshonderdduizend exemplaren verkocht.

Biografie van een van de internationale pioniers van de documentaire film, wiens leven onverbreekelijk verbonden was met de geschiedenis van het linkse kunstenaarsengagement.

In het jaar dat ze vijfenzestig wordt blikt Willeke van Ammelrooy, al sinds begin jaren zeventig een van de meest besproken persoonlijkheden van ons land, terug op haar leven. Het is niet voor niks dat ze juist in de afgelopen maanden besloot om aan de hand van vergeelde fotos en memorabilia uit de dozen bij haar op zolder herinneringen op te halen aan vijfenzestig jaar succes, teleurstelling, glamour, liefde en verdriet. 2008 was het jaar waarin bij Willeke een tumor werd geconstateerd, en een zware operatie noodzakelijk bleek. Het was ook het jaar waarin ze nieuwe successen beleefde, met haar rol in de film Bride Flight en de documentaire die dochter Denise Janzee over haar leven maakte. In gesprek met Nienke Swierstra vertelt Willeke over de grote en kleine liefdes in haar leven en over trouw blijven aan jezelf. Ze gaat in op loyaliteit, misleiding en integriteit in de filmwereld, de haat-liefdeverhouding met de pers, de kunst van het (film)acteren en op het veelbewogen jaar dat achter haar ligt en dat haar sterker maakte dan ooit.

Devoted to his craft--sometimes to the detriment of his reputation--cinematographer John Alton (1901-1996) was sought after by such directors as Vincente Minnelli, Richard Brooks and Anthony Mann but was disdained by others of comparable talent. An auteur in the truest sense, Alton established a landmark body of work described by Variety film critic Todd McCarthy as "The essence, and ultimate example, of film noir ... logically created by a cinematographer, not a director." This collection of new essays by filmmakers and film scholars explores the central role Alton's distinctive style of "painting with light" played in formulating the aesthetics of noir, as well as his contributions to other genres. Lighting for Televised Live Events unlocks the science, art, philosophies, and language of creating lighting for live entertainment and presentations that work for the television camera as well as for the live audience. The book explores how to retain the essence and excitement of a live production while assuring that the show looks its best on-camera for the millions of viewers that can only see it on their TV, computer, tablet, or mobile phone screen. Readers will learn how to adapt an existing stage show for the camera, as well as how to design live entertainment or events specifically for TV. Filled with real-life examples and illustrations, the book covers a wide range of topics, including: how exposure and color work for the camera; how angle, visual balance, and composition can make people and backgrounds look their best, while preserving theatricality; information on camera equipment, screens, and projectors, as well as the control room environments that are found on a professional shoot; the unique challenges of lighting for the IMAG video screens used at festivals and concerts. Lighting for Televised Live Events is aimed at lighting design students, as well as professional designers that are considering a career — or a career expansion — in television. It is an essential resource for any stage lighting designer whose show may be shot for a television special or a live webcast and who will be asked by their client to collaborate with the incoming video team.

Films of the past 15 years have been released in a number of formats and reflect a reconceptualization of film genres, audiences and the impact of technology on adaptation. Focusing on multiple audiences, film adaptation, nationalism, globalism and consumer culture, this collection of new essays explores how children's film can be re-examined alongside recent developments in their production. These analyses consider the effect of multimedia strategies on the child audience, and the opportunities for participation and their pedagogical implications. The essays also address how childhood is embedded within films and linked to various consumer contexts.
